RISKIQ®

Scale Threat Programs with Advanced Investigations

i3, Incident Investigation and Intelligence Teams Support Your Team

THE CHALLENGE:

Security teams are overloaded with alerts. They struggle to focus their efforts and prioritize because there is so much noise. And it is almost impossible to assemble all the relevant data to identify threats and execute the right response. Many security analysts rely on manual data-stitching and response teams are slow, unable to triage and trigger workflows without the complete picture.

i3 SERVICES ADD-ON TO ANY RISKIQ PRODUCT:

In addition to our product suite, RiskIQ offers a range of services and immediate support provided by our Incident, Investigation, and Intelligence (i3) team. These services combine best-in-class technology with expert human analysis from former national security and intelligence officers and trained analysts, acting as a force-multiplier to maximize the value customers can gain from their investment in RiskIQ.

- Agentless sensor discovery, always-on 24/7
- Automated discovery, find previous unknowns
- Reliable and consistent support for security teams
- Nimble and able to act with immediate requests
- Automated identification of PII vulnerabilities and exposures on the open web and dark web

THE SOLUTION:

RiskIQ knows its data best, but RiskIQ customers know which investigations are most impactful to them. Advanced Investigations allows customers to submit requests for information (RFIs), tasking RiskIQ analysts to undertake a deeper investigation uncover threats and threat actors using RiskIQ data in combination with OSINT and/or hand-selected third party platforms, depending on the requested topic. In some cases, these investigations can be anonymized and leveraged to educate on a variety of threats or analytical methodologies.
